Attendance Matters; Every Day Counts

Since all the children returned to school on the 8th March our attendance has been excellent. It is currently at 96%! Remember it is important that your child attends school every day. Poor attendance affects attainment and progress and can affect friendships at school. It is a parent's responsibility to make sure that their child attends school regularly and on time.

Don't forget to visit the school website to find out what the children have been learning. You can also now follow the school on Twitter.
